

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

We are committed to providing our pupils with a caring and homely environment within which individuality can flourish, allowing them, without hindrance, to live their lives to the full in as many spheres as possible. Everyone has the right to be treated with kindness and respect and to be properly supported if they are not. Bullying of any kind is deemed unacceptable and will always be taken seriously and acted upon.

AIMS

- To ensure a safe environment for all children at the school
- To emphasise the fundamental importance of establishing and maintaining a positive, caring ethos within the school
- Further aims are to establish an atmosphere where bullying is regarded as unacceptable, to raise general awareness so that the whole school community can play its part in recognising bullying and to take action when it occurs by preventing or responding appropriately to it.

OBJECTIVES

- To ensure that all pupils, parents, teaching and non-teaching staff can recognise what bullying is, know what the school policy is on bullying and what to do if it occurs
- To conduct staff training to maintain the high profile of the anti-bullying policy and to introduce new initiatives
- To build understanding and discussion of anti-bullying and related topics into the PSHCE programme
- To confirm frequently, through the action of teachers, that pupils will always be supported if bullying is reported
- To ensure that whenever someone knows that bullying is happening, someone is told about it or something is done
- To work with other professional agencies when necessary to keep children safe as described in the Children Act 1989, the SEN and Disability Act 2001, the government green paper "Every Child Matters" 2003 (outcome 2), the Children Act 2004, The Education and Inspections Act 2006, The Equality Act 2010, Preventing and Tackling Bullying: Advice for School Leaders, Staff and Governing Bodies 2014, The Prevent Duty June 2015 and Keeping Children Safe in Education 2015.

DEFINITIONS

Bullying is behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally. Bullying can take many forms (for instance, cyber-bullying via text messages or the internet), and is often motivated by prejudice against particular groups, for example on grounds of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or because a child is adopted or has caring responsibilities. It might be motivated by actual differences between children, or perceived differences. Stopping violence and ensuring immediate physical safety is obviously a school's first priority but emotional bullying can be more damaging than physical; teachers and schools have to make their own judgements about each specific case.

Preventing and Tackling Bullying: Advice for School Leaders, Staff and Governing Bodies 2014.

All members of the school staff should be alert to the possibility of signs of bullying. In some cases bullying is unwitting and not consciously done, in others it is a wilful and conscious desire to hurt, threaten or frighten someone. Bullying does affect all in school and as such is a serious matter; bullying may cause physical or psychological damage (and in some cases suicide) and could in some cases lead to contravention of law.

All pupils should be responsible for bringing bullying to the attention of any adult on the staff. It is also true that teachers may (unwittingly) be bullies. It is also true that staff may be subject to bullying from pupils and staff are responsible for bringing this to the attention of the Headmaster. Equally it is true that staff may be subject to bullying from other staff and this is covered in the school's Whistleblowing Policy and Staff Grievance Procedure.

We may define bullying as the following occurring over a period of time:

Emotional	Being unfriendly, excluding, tormenting
Physical	Hitting, kicking, pushing, taking another's belongings, any use of violence
Racial	Racial taunts, graffiti, gestures
Sexual	Explicit sexual remarks, display of sexual material, sexual gestures, unwanted physical attention, comments about sexual reputation or performance, or inappropriate touching
Direct or indirect verbal	Name-calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing
Cyber-bullying	Bullying that takes place online, such as through social networking sites, messaging apps or gaming sites

ANTI-BULLYING STRATEGY

The school is committed to working with all children and staff to prevent bullying where possible, and to ensure that when incidents do occur, they are dealt with quickly and sensitively. There are a number of ways in which students are supported. Children may speak with teachers, admin staff, friends, and national charities with regard to their concerns; through form meetings, assemblies, the anonymous 'worry box', and PSHCE lessons.

The School delivers the message that bullying is not a normal part of life and should not be allowed to flourish. All children are encouraged to speak with members of staff immediately if they feel bullying is occurring, either as victim, witness or the person responsible.

The School Council is an avenue for children to make their feelings known on bullying within the school and also the school's approach to bullying. Meetings are regular and minutes kept and published.

All pupils have opportunities to speak with key members of staff about their concerns. The Form Tutor will be the first point of contact, but this relationship is supported by the Deputy Head and Headmaster.

The Headmaster holds a bullying log to monitor instances of bullying and patterns of bullying.

Anti-bullying is addressed in whole school inset sessions, and as part of the school's induction. Staff Meetings are avenues where the school's policy on bullying can be addressed and evaluated.

When there is a significant update of the Anti-Bullying policy, all staff receive a copy of the new policy.

DEALING WITH BULLYING

If an allegation of bullying is made by a child, then the member of staff receiving the allegation should establish the level of anxiety. If the level of anxiety is low, then staff should restore cordiality through verbal communication with the complainant and the accused. It is advantageous to bring the children together at this point.

If an allegation is made by a parent then the member of staff should make it clear that the best way for the matter to be resolved is for staff to speak with the pupil in question and establish the level of anxiety.

If the level of anxiety is significant, a written statement may be taken from the child (signed and dated) by the member of staff fielding the allegation.

If suspicions are raised by staff or parents, this should also be recorded in writing. The allegations and evidence should then pass to the relevant Form Tutors.

The Form Tutor should offer to conduct a full investigation into the matter. This investigation will include witness statements, and the questioning of the alleged person responsible.

The Form Tutor may seek the advice and support of the Headmaster during the investigation, and must refer the case to the Deputy Head (Pastoral) in the case of serious bullying being proven.

In most cases, the Form Tutor and Deputy Head will agree the appropriate course of action.

The Deputy Head will determine appropriate sanctions for the person responsible.

Parents should be informed throughout the process and often will be invited to school to discuss the matter and its resolution.

All staff are to make accurate records of interviews and also record the process followed in each case

In line with Keeping Children Safe in Education 2015 a bullying incident should be addressed as a child protection concern where a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm'; the investigation should be halted, with only a verbatim record of the child's words.

The incident should be immediately raised with the Designated Safeguarding Lead and action taken.

Staff should be aware that some types of harassing and threatening behaviour, or communications, could be a criminal offence; if staff feel that an offence has been committed they should seek assistance from the Deputy Head (Pastoral) and consideration given to the involvement of Police and/or Children's Social Care.

In assemblies, PSHCE sessions and Form Meetings children are encouraged to develop

- Acceptance
- Patience
- Respect for others, themselves, their learning.
